Do you know how Universalism evolved? Come to hear more about our UU Faith’s roots.

July 14, 2019 | 10 am | “Faith & Finance” | Rachel Burlock

As people interested in the pursuit of social justice and spiritual truths, we don’t often talk about money. The love of it, after all, is the root of all evil, at least according to the Bible. And yet if we seek to live our faith authentically, that includes our finances – the way we spend money, the way we save it, the way we talk about it. Whether it’s investing in socially responsible mutual funds or choosing to buy locally, each dollar mindfully spent can work towards the creation of the world we envision.

July 21, 2019 | 10 am | “Telling Stories About Ourselves” | Joanna Henderson

Writing a childhood memoir is a journey of the soul.

July 21 | 7 pm | “Dances of Universal Peace” | Sarah-Elizabeth Anderson

The Dances of Universal Peace are an embodied practice based in mantras from many world religions. Walking practice, prayer, sound current vibration, and gentle full body movement create an atmosphere of heart centered peace.

A group of 30+ UU Members and Friends are studying and practicing Lojong, an ancient Tibetan Buddhist mind training discipline, for this entire year.

Join us to learn what it’s about and hear how it helps build our “mental muscles” of compassion, patience, and resilience.

Summertime Faith

Rev. Lyn Marshall, Minister of Lifespan Faith Development

Our Second Hour and Sunday School classes have entered “Vacation Mode,” but faith development is so much bigger than what happens on Sunday mornings, and I want to encourage all of us - me included! - not to give our spiritual lives short shrift during the summer. Days are long - where will you make time for that idle attention that Mary Oliver speaks of in her poem, “The Summer Day,” those hours spent deeply noticing the natural world and your place in it? My own summer spiritual practice involves a hammock, and listening carefully to the sounds in my neighborhood. Lying so I can study the ground below me, attending to what exactly is growing there. I don’t treat my lawn with anything, so it’s a diverse mix of wild strawberries, grasses, clover, moss, and plants whose names I don’t know. Recently I noticed that there is a little baptisia plant poking up near the hammock stand, so I will mow around it, maybe move it somewhere else... did it grow there from seed dispersed by the plants at the side of the house? Was it part of a garden bed that was abandoned? I love wondering about the natural history of my yard.

If you are a parent, I hope you’ll be able to spend some time outside with your children with no particular place to go. Time to toss pebbles into a stream, build a fairy house in a shady spot, or study an ant hill together. I’ve heard it asserted that the average American child can identify around 1,000 corporate logos but fewer than 10 plants or animals native to their own region. I don’t have the original source of this information to vet it, but I believe it is a matter of spiritual importance for us to attend to our own and our children’s connection to the interconnected web that supports our lives, so that we can be better stewards and advocates for its preservation. And don’t view this as a chore; it’s an invitation to love. To go outside, to follow your eyes and ears, to feel the blessing of being alive in a whole symphony of life around us.

Happy Summer, everyone - see you in church!

Rev. Lyn Marshall

UU Friends of Refugees (UUFOR)

New Members

Michael Cobb

I grew up in St. Louis and met my wife, Nola Rocco, in Providence, RI, where I traveled to be a student and then acting company member at Trinity Repertory Company.

Since then I've also earned an M.A. in Theatre from Brown University and an M.F.A. in Voice, Speech, and Text Pedagogy from the American Repertory Theater/Moscow Art Theatre School Institute for Advanced Theatre Training at Harvard. Prior to moving to New Hampshire I served as Head of Voice, Speech, and Text at the National Theatre Conservatory/Denver Center and as Visiting Assistant Professor of Acting/Theatre at the Universities of Wisconsin, Utah, and Minnesota/Guthrie Theater.

We moved to NH after purchasing Pilates, Etc., in Tilton, where my wife teaches. Since moving to NH I have directed at the Winnepesaukee Playhouse and taught classes and workshops at Hatbox Theatre, Kimball Jenkins School of Art, and as Educational and Artistic Director of truepenny arts, through which I seek to continue practicing my art and serving the community through teaching, coaching, performing and creating.

I also enjoy running, dancing, listening to music, reading, and hiking. I was drawn to Concord U.U. by the prospect of spiritual growth and joining and serving the community. †

Nola Rocco

Hi. I am Nola and married to Michael Cobb. We met in Providence, RI and have lived in NY, Missouri, L.A., Colorado and other places along our 30+ years of life together. And now, New Hampshire!

We have 3 kitties - Duma, Simba and Harry Dean. I own a business in Tilton called Pilates, Etc., working with clients of all ages who have diverse histories and reasons for training.

Essentially, I teach people who want to move...to move better and move more.

I was a professional dancer for more than 20 years, receiving my M.F.A. in Choreography and Performance from UCLA. My love is still dance and I dream to someday find art and the stage again. Performing nourished my spirit and was a place where I felt free and deeply creative.

I love the ocean and horses, and singing and music, especially jazz. I dabble in photography; poetry and writing used to be past-times; biking, swimming, hiking and gardening are interests I would like to return to. My affinity in reading is non-fiction. I enjoy a good cup of dark roast coffee and rich red wine; and I have been invested in healthy eating for a good part of my life.

Meditative practice is a new part of my personal journey; and I hope as Michael and I invest more time being UU members, the more we will discover the fellowship and community we have yearned for. †

Lisa Cassell

I grew up in upstate New York, went to college in DC and spent 9 years there before moving to an Army post in Hawaii for 4 years. In the very end of 1987 I moved to Concord where I raised 3 children. I was a stay at home mom but very involved in volunteering... with my children's schools, the church, the Friends program, the Concord Garden Club Flower Mission. Around 2004 I found my way to NHESA, an adaptive ski program at Mt. Sunapee. The program added adaptive kayaking around 2008. This is my primary volunteer passion.

I re-entered the nursing field in 2005, first as a school nurse and then finding my way into Wellness Nursing. I started doing foot care in 2012 and I love it!!! I have to be careful not to discuss my job details at the dinner table!!

In the late 2000's I became very disillusioned with the Catholic church and became a "roaming Catholic" But found the Christian rances of the church didn't ring true with me. I walked into the UU church and lightning didn't strike me dead! But its philosophy and covenants are aligned with my life's values. It took me years of coming on and off before I made the commitment to finally become a member. I'm happy to say I have found my church home! †

Exploring Membership Classes Fall 2019

Our next Exploring Membership classes will be in the Fall. This is a 3-session series, with classes on Sundays after service. You must attend all three sessions in order to become a member.

You will learn about Unitarian Universalism in general and the way that it is expressed in our particular congregation, as well as the rights, benefits, and responsibilities of membership. You will also have a chance to share your history and the spiritual journey that brought you to Concord UU, and to hear the stories of others in the class.

The New Member Covenanting Ceremony will take place during a Sunday morning service.

Questions? Contact Lorraine Ellis at 731-3064 or wyndwoman@wyndyhill.net.

Transforming Ourselves

Transforming Our World

THANK YOU to all of you in the Unitarian Universalist Church Community for helping to host homeless families in the Family Promise of Greater Concord program during our fourth year. We hosted a total of four weeks within a fourteen week span of time. You showed flexibility by moving meetings to other areas of church, help pay for the renovations in rooms 8/9, made families feel welcome as you came into the church, provided food, cooked meals, slept overnight, provided compassion by listening and helping a family furnish an apartment. You shared in the joy of playing and talking to children in the families. Families feel welcomed and cared for at our church.

There will be some changes in the 2019-20 church year. The first major change is our weeks of hosting will be spread out throughout the church year. We will be hosting the weeks of October 13, December 15, March 15 and May 10. The other change is I am stepping down from being the coordinator but will continue to volunteer in the program. If you would like more information about coordinating or co-coordinating the Family Promise Outreach Program please contact me or speak with Michael.

I personally want to thank all of you for this opportunity to serve our church. Every single week has been different and had some challenges but I learn so much from the families that we host and from all of you. It has been a wonderful way to make connections and build community within our church.

*In Gratitude,
Wendy Olson*

Circle of Life

Remembering Gordon Blakeney | 1924-2019

We are sad to share that beloved member Gordon Blakeney died at home on May 17, 2019. Gordon was pre-deceased by his wife, Fran. Gordon and Fran joined our church in 1958, making Gordon one of our longest-term members, although he has not been able to attend regularly in recent years.

Remembering Tom Fredenburg

Our beloved member, Tom Fredenburg, passed away on May 27 after a sudden cardiac arrest. Tom was well-known in the Concord community for his involvement in the issue of homelessness, community sports, and more. He was involved at church in many ways over the years, most recently as a Board of Trustees member, and part of our “house band,” the Wholly Rollers. The May 28 issue of the Concord Monitor features a moving tribute to Tom.

Rev. Michael Leuchtenberger will officiate at a memorial service in our Sanctuary on Saturday, June 8, at 2pm. A reception in Fellowship Hall will follow.

Marti Savoy

I grew up attending the Unitarian Church of Woburn, Mass., where my parents, siblings, a grandmother, and many aunts, uncles and cousins attended church. In my mid-teens I started attending the Reading, Mass. Unitarian Church, which is in the town my family lived in.

I married Clayton Savoy, my husband of 54 years, in the Reading Unitarian Church. We raised our 4 children in various New Hampshire towns. We have 8 grandchildren and 5, soon to be 6, great grandchildren. Clay and I have recently downsized to a house in Penacook.

My current hobbies include attending Native American pow-wows, for me a spiritual activity. I like sewing (home decorating and quilting), polymere (jewelry and glassware), traditional rug hooking, cooking and flower gardening. I also love hanging out with my family and friends.

Last, but by no means least, I must say I love this church. The building itself, with its many windows to outdoors, and the sanctuary with its feel of the natural, Fellowship Hall, the quiet charming chapel, and many function rooms. The sermons and conversations provided with just a touch (or more) of humor, and much thought-provoking inspiration by our ministers, and the many congregants who participate. Also, the incredible choir and instrumentals. The friendly greetings as I walk down the hall. But most of all I am amazed by the endless possibilities of opportunities to pursue for fun, volunteering, and learning, almost any day of the week. †

My journey to this moment kind of feels full circle. I grew up visiting my Uncle Adam, who lived in the Arlington Street UU Church in Boston. He was classically trained and played the pipe organ, harpsichord, and the bell music in the tower. During the rest of the week he also was the Facility Manager. I have very fond memories of these visits.

Raised by Catholics who weren't really into the religion, so when I started questioning authority, my parents supported my break from the Church.

As a young mom, I sought after something familiar but more free thinking and became an Episcopalian. It was exciting to be the first membership group welcomed by Bishop Gene Robinson, in 2003. I was a member of St. Andrews in Manchester and St. Peter's in Londonderry (with a female minister)!

Then I dropped out completely and just explored with friends in my life or visits: Baptists, Evangelical Non-denominations, Quakers, Transcendental Meditation, etc....

But where does an Agnostic, a person who believes that nothing is known or can be known of the existence or nature of God or of anything beyond material phenomena; a person who claims neither faith nor disbelief in God, really fit in?

Enter, Unitarian Universalist Church of Concord!! Yes, it was the job that brought me here but it's been the loving kindness that has welcomed me in. I feel like this is my home away from home and I look forward to being involved in the many great things that happen here and beyond our doors. †

Another church year has nearly passed..... are you someone who has thought about singing in choir but comes up with a multitude of reasons to deny the experience? Like..... I don't have a good enough voice, my voice isn't strong enough, I don't read music, I can't make every rehearsal, I don't know what part to sing, (and the list goes on....). Well, NONE of that matters! Anyone can join us.

If the thought of singing with the choir has crossed your mind, I would like to encourage you to come to rehearsal (Thursday nights 7:00-8:30) and give it a try this coming Fall. No pressure. No commitment. I'd so much rather know someone came, tried it, and decided it wasn't right for them than to go year after year wondering what it might be like.

Come and find out. Answer the question. We'd LOVE to have your voice and spirit joining us in song and laughter (yes, and sometimes tears...). Besides you will then get to see all the funny faces I make at the choir (just kidding) (well....maybe not).

Please give it a thought..... you are all welcome here!

Let's get singing!

NEW CONCORD UU ENVIRONMENTAL GROUP

Sunday, June 2 | 11:30 am

Join the new group that has stepped up to make a difference in how we respond to our environment. You can join the group on Facebook and/or come to the occasional (possibly monthly) meetings, the next one on Sunday, June 2nd. Check for posts related to local happenings.

Let's connect while getting informed and participating. We will tackle two or three issues at a time and constantly evaluate our successes and failures. In process right now are a revamping of "the environmental bulletin board in the church hall and an "eco" basket being prepared for the upcoming service auction to be held after church on June 9th.

June Targeted Appeal

Music Supplies

$1,500 (Goal)

When we passed our budget last year, we added a new way to fund some of our church operations with targeted giving (3x/year). Our June goal is to raise $1,500 that help pay for music supplies like sheet music for the choir and cover expenses like tuning our piano.

Of all the things we find beautiful and inspiring in our worship and religious life, music was ranked highest in our congregational survey. The language of music touches our hearts and souls every Sunday, expressing emotions in ways words can't quite reach.

We are blessed with a strong music staff. We want to ensure that the instruments and supplies available to them are worthy of the gifts they bring. Whether it is a piece of choral music that fits just so to make a service more meaningful, or a piano solo that takes you soaring, your contribution will help keep the music coming.

Please contribute as you are able, so that we may continue to enjoy a music program that nurtures our spirits and enhances our lives.

Make checks out to UU Church of Concord and drop them in the box, or donate online at concorduu.org/donate and select "to Targeted Appeals" in the dropdown.
